PROMINENT PARIS MAN MEETS WITH ACCIDENT.

Mr. L. D. Harris, aged sixty-two, senior member of the real estate firm of Harris & Speakes, of Paris, met with an unfortunate accident Sunday afternoon, in which he sustained a compound fracture of the bones of his right leg just above the ankle.

Mr. Harris, finding the big building crowded to the doors, went to the stage entrance, as did many others, and, in making his way along the stage in the dark, made a misstep, and fell down the stairs leading from the stage to the basement, a distance of probably twenty feet. His groans attracted the attention of several who were standing near. Mr. Harris was carried to the stage where an examination revealed a fracture of the right leg. He was removed to his home on Walker avenue, where the injured member was given medical attention.

FROST VISITS THIS SECTION SATURDAY MORNING.

Early risers Saturday morning had visions of the returning days of early spring when they saw the tops of houses covered with a deposit of frost. It is not thought any serious damage was done to fruit by the frost, as the season and the buds are well advanced.

Mr. H. F. Hillemyer, the Lexington nurseryman and horticulturist, expressed the opinion that the fruit was safe. "If the fruit escapes the recent cold spell and the recent frosts I am sure that no harm will have been done. We have a finer prospect for large quantities of good fruit than we have had for several years. This is not 'blackberry winter,' as that comes when the vines are blooming, but it may be called 'dogwood winter.'"

Only on two occasions since he has been observing the weather conditions has fruit been killed in mid-April—April 15-16, 1875, when there was a disastrous frost, and April 15-16, 1832, when it froze after being fully headed out. All trees are heavily laden with blossoms now, and a freezing temperature would cause great destruction, he said.
